A WILL CASE.

An interesting case is going on. PORTLAND, July 23. An interesting will case is before the Probate Court today involving the question whether a husband can witness a will in which his wife is a legatee. Miss Martha A. Eells of Whiteock made her will last February, leaving the bulk of her property to her nephews, J. Evans Eells of Plymouth, Maine. Subsequently a second will left the property to her brother, Merrill P. Eells of Whiteock. It appears that the second will was witnessed by Harry Minch of Whiteock, whose wife receives a small legacy in the will. An attempt is made to get it set aside.

On the ground the decision has not yet been rendered.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

Woman Declares She Against Medical Authority. LONDON, July 22. The inquiry into the mental condition of Mrs. Mary Cathcarte, wealthy lady of Wootton Lodge, Saffordshire, on petition of her husband, which has been going on since the 1st of July, was adjourned to the next court of justice, a verdict to the effect that Mrs. Cathcarte was of a sound state of mind.

It is a remarkable case. It only from the fact that a number of physicians is declared Mrs. Cathcarte, who had been confined in an asylum, to be insane, while the special jury now finds against the powerful attorney general.

Mrs. Cathcarte, who had to have had a hysterical attack, was paroled.

She frequently reported to her persecutors, alleged adultery against her husband and children.

Mrs. Cathcarte also complained of alleged fraudulent schemes and as to witnesses who would have assisted her having been put away in convalescent asylums.

She also charged her husband with attempting to kill her, and stated that she had been taken from the law courts to the asylums the result of a plot and that Her Majesty's Judges have been forced to allow it.

BLOODY MAY FOLLOW.

Crops and Houses Destroyed by the Terrific Storm.

Reports Still Coming in of the Great Damage Sustained.

ABERDEEN, S. D., July 23. Reports are coming in of a terrific hail storm which did about twenty-five miles north of here on Tuesday.

The track of the storm extended from Hooper at a point forty miles west of Cheyenne eastward for over one hundred miles, and was from one to four miles wide.

In some localities great damage was done. Hall's station of immense size fell in. A mass meeting of miners is being held at Coal Creek this afternoon.

The miners are perfectly quiet and there is no sign of a strike at Coal Creek.

The solution of the troubles for the present depends on the result of the meeting held yesterday.

Convicts May Be Returned.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 23. This morning the court sat in the city hall for Coal Creek with the decision of the Governor that if the convicts were allowed to be placed in the mines from which they were exiled by the miners, the miners would be convened in extra session for the purpose of taking such action as will save the miners.

Thousands of Dollars Lost.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 23. A special from Austin, Minn., says:

A terrible hail and wind storm, fully a mile wide, passed over the city last night and the eastern portion of the county and in Waltham township last night and ruined everything in its path.

The damage will aggregate thousands of dollars.

The miners' committee returned to Knoxville at 5:45.

A mass meeting was held to-night which lasted three hours and ended without any visible result.

PARTY, July 23. Two murders similar in character to those ascribed to London have been committed in Massachusetts with this week. A man giving an Italian name, twice took rooms accompanied by a woman, and in each case the woman was afterwards found dead, having been strangled and the murderer having left a note, and the police stated that these crimes were the beginning of a series.

Eight Over a Girl with Fatal Results.

BOSTON, July 23. Two men turned into a hotel after a prize fight that turned into a murder.

Harry Boyd and John Myford living at Black Diamond, a mining town just outside of town, were engaged in a fight and died of it, out according to prize ring rules. They were both young fellows and almost equally matched, though Boyd seemed more experienced.

Three terrible rounds were fought when the boy delivered a tremendous blow on Myford's neck just over the jugular.

Myford staggered back a few steps and fell to the ground, his nose bleeding. He was picked by his friends but never recovered consciousness. He expired an hour later.

Boyd surrendered himself to the officers.

CETE NEED.

What Mr. Wanley Wants to Do.

Friend.

REPORT, Mich., July 23. The Tribune published the following: Capt. William G. Clegg, of the 10th Inf., was engaged in a communication from J. H. Manley, of Augusta, in response to a letter written on the 18th inst. The subjects of inquiry on the part of Mr. G. were the statements of Senator James J. Blaine and his attitude as affecting the earnest desire of multitudes of his admirers in the Republican party that he become its standard-bearer in 1882.

The replies are especially significant when it is remembered that Mr. Blaine has been for a year a personal friend and political confidant and adviser of the Secretary of State. In effect Mr. Blaine said that Mr. Blaine's health is almost fully regained and that he will return to Washington in the fall in his vigor, strength, to fit of mind and body. He further stated that Mr. Blaine had been a candidate for the Republican nomination, but that in his opinion if the Republican party wants him for its standard-bearer in 1882, all it has to do is to nominate him and that he will accept.

TO EXERCISE THE LAW.

A Circular Letter to the Sheriff of Worcester.

A. C. LEE, July 23. Governor Bullock has sent to-day the following to the sheriff of Worcester county.

Complaints have been made from various sections of Worcester county that the law is not being properly enforced. I desire to call your attention to this fact and to urge you to take such steps as may be necessary to see that the discharge of your own obligations as chief law officer for the protection of the community.

The present laws have been placed upon the books in recognition of the overwhelming sentiment of the people of Worcester against the liquor traffic. It is plain and imperative duty of every officer of the law to enforce to the letter the law, and to see that they are administered according to their spirit and intent.

I am very desirous there should be no remissions of duty on the part of the local law enforcement officers in the execution of their duty.

The Executive Council, along with me in the discharge of our special obligations, has directed that no increases be made in the force employed, and that no new police be engaged.

Very respectfully yours,

EDWIN C. BURKE.
